

Astro Business Cycles - Number 4:

Hi folks,

Just as our Global Mystery Business entered its current cycle, US events were marked by the death of Ronald Reagan and astrologically, Venus was retrograde and on its transit, across the Sun.

Now that Venus is in direct motion again, the current phase is a very creative time for our company.

Activities encouraging workers and management to participate in think-tanks, developing business plans and artistic ventures should be directed towards short-term goals.

With Venus in Geminii, group sessions should be successful, with intuition at a high level.

While some great ideas can be exposed in many parts of the business, management should be alert for counterfeits, fraud and deception, especially in written works, so monitor your financial records closely, now.

Our current business cycle is also a good period for training and study in specialised areas of the company's operations.

Infinite intelligence, foreknowledge, intuition - call it what you will ... new concepts and ideas will flourish, so be prepared to seize the opportunity and act on it, immediately.

This highly charged atmosphere is very positive, though it can be a somewhat emotional period, too.

It is probably best to defer the hiring of staff and any real estate deals, at this time.

As the we move into the fifth astrocycle for our business, our expectations can be raised, that we are moving into a rewarding period, where our previous hard work, finally pays dividends

Take care until next time.

happy trading all
